

Torii-gata(Gozan Okuribi)
 Every year, one of the summer features of Kyoto, Gozan Okuribi/the Great Bonfire Event (Mountain Bon Fire) is held on August 16.

Daikakuji Temple honors the spirits of the Buddhist monk Kukai, and his patron, Emperor Saga. Osawa-no-ike Pond highlights the elegance of the four seasons.

The Adashino Fields are the final resting place of a great many anonymous souls, covered with the stone statues that remain to preserve their memory.

The only shrine in Japan to venerate hair.

Constructed at the behest of Ashikaga Takauji in order to calm the spirit of Emperor Godaigo

The boats that come down the 16 km valley of the Hozugawa river begin to reduce their speed here before coming to port.

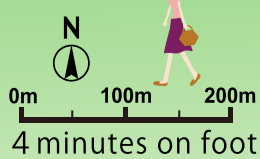

The view of Mt. Arashiyama and Mt. Ogura from Togetsukyo Bridge is renowned, and also presents a fine view of the "torii-gata" and "daimonji" bonfires during the Gozan Fire Festival

Home of the deities overlooking electricity and radio waves.

KYOTO Sagano·Arashiyama

©2017 MAP&NEWS.net

あるくあるける
MAP&NEWS.net

「この地図の作成に当たっては、国土地理院長の承認を得て、同院発行の数値地図25000(地図画像)及び数値地図2500(空間データ基盤)を使用した。(承認番号 平23情使、第798号)」